Petition for Lake Drive warning gate

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Petitions are being circulated in Pontoon Beach, sponsored by the village board, urging that railroads install crossing gates or warning lights at the Lake Drive crossing in the village where a young woman was killed by a train in this month.

Floyd David Moss, president of the village board of trustees, disclosed at Thursday night's board meeting that petitions had been prepared by the village's attorney, Horace Calvo, and were being distributed throughout the village.

Copies are to be sent to the Illinois Central Gulf, Penn Central, Chicago & North Western and Norfolk and Western railroads and any others using the crossing.

Calvo, who also is a state representative, said he personally would deliver copies of the petitions to the Illinois Commerce Commission and would urge officials to give the matter prompt consideration.

In other business, the board passed a resolution increasing the amount it could spend without competitive bidding from $500 to $1,500, and agreed to prepare a contract with the Marion Stamps Sewer and Pipe Cleaning Co. of Granite City for him to clean Quiet Valley sanitary sewers and certain storm sewer tiles in Lakeview Estates for $1,450.

Moss said Stamps' offer was the lowest received for the work, even during bidding last year.

Approval was given, pending receipt and acceptance of a contract, and with the understanding that payment will not be made until the work is satisfactorily completed.

Eugene Stevenson, pastor of Central Methodist Church, told the board he intends to construct a new church building at 4150 South St., if proper zoning and building approvals can be obtained. The congregation formerly used a building at 22nd and State streets.

Expo letter drive

A letter campaign on behalf of a proposed exposition hall and cultural center in Madison and St. Clair Counties is being launched by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and other groups.

The "expo" hall legislation passed the Illinois House and Senate and is now subject to signing or veto by Governor Daniel Walker.

Sponsor is State Sen. Sam Vadala, and the bill was handled in the House by State Rep. Horace Calvo.

Chester L. Baker, Chamber of Commerce president, commented: "We think it is time for an all-out attempt, asking the governor to sign the bill, make it a law, and get the convention center under way."

"It is contemplated that the center will cost $15 million, and it is our hope that it will be built on the SIU campus at Edwardsville, which has offered to donate the land free of charge."

"No taxation or new forms of revenue are involved."

"It will be financed by revenue bonds to be retired from proceeds of operation of the cultural center, just as the McCormick Center in Chicago was financed."

"In addition, financing will be helped by parimutuel betting and cigarette taxes from this area."

"We have two race tracks contributing. This area is second in Illinois in the amount of taxes collected from these two sources, and we need a convention center that will seat up to 10,000 people."

"At present," Baker continued, "there is no facility in this area large enough to handle present-day convention crowds."

"In short, we sorely need it, plus the fact that it will bring much-needed jobs to this area."

"Everyone—labor, business, industry, all citizens—should be interested."

"Therefore, we urge all to write Governor Dan Walker, asking him to sign the bill, and telling him that it is not only urgently needed in this area but that we are entitled to it because of the vast amount of parimutuel and cigarette taxes collected from this area."

"That, plus the fact that free land is available at SIUE,"

Woman stabbed

Mrs. Diane Swift, 25, of 3015 Marshall Ave., was stabbed after she found a youth in her home at 6:45 p.m. Thursday. Police apprehended a 15-year-old boy in connection with the incident.

Mrs. Swift said she returned home and noticed a front bedroom window was open. She entered and said she saw a boy she recognized as her newspaper delivery boy standing in the bedroom.

She related telling the boy not to move while she called police. She went to the kitchen and, while she was dialing the telephone, the boy allegedly took a paring knife from a kitchen drain board and stabbed Mrs. Swift in the right chest area.

At the hospital, Mrs. Swift spoke to police and told them she believed the assailant to be her delivery boy. Officers checked the neighborhood, discovered the name of the boy and spoke to his parents.

Officers and family members continued to search for the boy Thursday night, but were unsuccessful.

On Friday morning, the boy's parents surrendered him to police at the city hall. The youth was released to his parents pending a juvenile hearing.

Michael Baechle reported the break-in at 8:50 a.m. Saturday after arriving to open the store for Manager Barry Kidder.

Pontoon Beach Police Chief Kidder said the thieves apparently were after narcotics only.

Empty drug containers were strewn about, and drawers in a counter were forced open.

Expansion at bank

First Granite City National Bank opened its new Auto Bank drive-through facility for operation last week.

The new facility is capable of serving six Auto Bank customers simultaneously, five at remote stations. There is one window with special accommodations to directly handle commercial transactions.

The five inside lanes are protected from the weather by an overhead canopy. The sixth, or outside lane, is uncovered to accommodate pick-up campers and trucks.

A feature of the First Auto Bank is a mini-bank lobby where all routine transactions can be handled by the tellers preferring not to use the drive-through service.

When completed, the new facility will provide additional spaces in the bank customer parking lot.

The traffic flow pattern has been re-aligned to prevent congestion and to provide easy access to the drive-through service.

Assembly OKs road revenue

Thirteen days after its deadline of June 30, the Illinois General Assembly concluded its spring legislative session at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. The next deliberations are set for Nov. 7.

The Illinois Senate had adjourned Friday evening but Sen. Sam Vadala and 41 fellow legislators reported when called back by Gov. Daniel Walker at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Their task was to resolve the difference between their version of a budget bill and one enacted by the House later Friday night.

The Senate in its final action had added an amendment to an omnibus appropriation bill appropriating $58 million to agencies and commissions and providing a $100 monthly raise for 50,000 state employees.

The amendment involved a $7,500 reimbursement to three Mental Health Department employees found guilty of violating an employee's civil rights at Manteno State Hospital, Kankakee. The employees have been ordered to pay $7,654 in damages to the dismissed worker.

After nearly an hour of debate, House leaders concluded that they could not secure passage unless they removed the state reimbursement to the three. The Senate then concurred Saturday, bills must be enacted in identical form before being sent to the governor for his signature.

The Nov. 7 session will permit the legislature to consider bills vetoed by Gov. Walker.

Speaking from his home

Saturday before returning to Springfield, Sen. Vadala told the Press-Record that the year's accomplishments included a "green light" for southern extension of Fed. Aid Route 151 (Great River Road) as part of a $100 million "catch up" allocation of state highway funds previously "frozen" in this region.

He also cited the exposition center authority legislation passed by the House and Senate, intended to serve Madison and St. Clair Counties. He voiced hope that the bill will be signed and that the project can be built on the SIUE campus.

The legislature approved an $8,700,000 budget estimated at $500 million more than requested by the governor.

On Friday, approval was given to a $2,100,000 transportation program described as $200 million more than Gov. Walker sought.

Included are $1,700,000 for state and local road projects and $400 million for design and construction of supplemental freeways, including one between this area and Carbondale.

There were boosts also in state aid to schools, grants to local-level governments from state income taxes, and grants to local facilities for retarded and foster children.

Teamsters to vote tonight

Teamsters from Local 525 of Alton are to vote this evening on a tentative contract which, if accepted, would end a six-week-old Teamsters' strike against the construction industry.
 The agreement was rejected by Teamsters' Local 50 at Swansea by a 3-1 margin during ratification meetings Friday at Swansea and Saturday at Centralia. A spokesman for that local said its members would return to work, if Local 525 and Local 437 of West Frankfort could ratify the contract tonight.
 Ten other locals in the Illinois Conference of Teamsters have ratified the tentative agreement and many have returned to work.
 The combined vote of the entire conference is expected to be used as the determining factor in whether the strike ends or continues.

First of new Tower Lake apartments to be occupied

Five of 32 buildings in the new Tower Lake housing complex at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have been accepted by the university, ac-ording to Bill Hall, director of university housing. Hall said the five apartments will be ready for occupancy by students in the fall quarter.

Seven additional buildings are expected to be turned over to the university by the contractor in mid-August. Final readiness of the units for occupancy will depend on deliveries of furnishings and equipment.

Hall said a display apartment in the new complex will be open for public inspection in the near future. Announcement will be made when the apartment is ready for tours.

When completed, the 32 buildings will provide housing for 1,000 additional single students. The project is scheduled for completion in March 1975. Construction has been under way since November 1973.

The new two-story apartment buildings will contain 224 two-bedroom units and 24 three-bedroom units. A commons building will provide space for administrative offices, meeting rooms, lounge areas and a snack bar.

The complex is on a rolling, wooded site north of the existing Tower Lake apartments, which house 400 single students and 148 families. The new construction is being financed by $5.9 million in revenue bonds.

Humanities series for senior citizens

Applications for a series of humanities programs for senior citizens will be accepted at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, beginning Monday, July 29, according to William Hamrick, director of the program.

Registration for the 26-week series, beginning in the fall quarter at SIUE will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration will be limited to 75 persons. Participants must be at least 60 years old and semi-retired.

Using public transportation financed by a grant from the Illinois Humanities Council, senior citizens from Madison and St. Clair counties will be transported to the SIUE campus to participate in the program.

The meetings will start at 2 p.m. each Wednesday from Oct. 2, 1974 through Feb. 6, 1975. There will be two main topics for each session. From 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. there will be a talk with questions invited, and from 3:30 until 4:45 there will be seminars.

Hamrick said the series of programs for senior citizens will focus on three different epochs in the lifetimes of participants: The period dominated by telegraph and newspapers (1914-1925); radio and talking film years (1925-1940); and television years (1940-1974).

"The general goal of the series for the elderly is to help give them a mental and historical awareness of the time they lived and to focus on social and public policy issues which affect their lives today," Hamrick said.

He stressed the idea of the "college coming to the elderly," even though senior citizens would be coming to the SIUE campus.

"Lecturing is out," Hamrick said. "Whether a faculty member or senior citizen, each participant will have equality before the task of exchanging academic views with ones formed by the outside world."

Applications are to be made by mail only, and postmarked no earlier than July 29. They should be sent to William Hamrick, P.O. Box 43, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill., 62025.

For further information, interested persons may contact the SIUE philosophy department, telephone 692-2250.

Mobile license unit being discontinued

Mobile Mary has retired. Mary, who began her one-year career last summer, has been deemed "beyond hope" mechanically and will soon go the way of all wrecks.

Actually, she was lucky to receive the one-year reprieve. Representatives from the Illinois Secretary of State's office found Mary, an about-to-be discarded bookmobile, last year parked at the fairgrounds in Springfield. For a cost of $1,400, she was converted into a mobile driver's licensing unit.

"As far as we know, it was the only one of its kind in the country," according to a spokesman from the secretary's office. However, after tabulating over 180,000 miles—38,000 of which were accumulated in the role of mobile unit—it has been determined that her career is over.

"She needs too much work to be considered economical," the spokesman said. "An overhaul would be necessary to install heat and air-conditioning. It would not be feasible to spend the necessary money."

During her tour of duty, Mobile Mary saw a lot of Illinois.

"The unit was converted at low cost, and served the people of Illinois well," said Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state. "It visited over 100 cities in the past year, bringing drivers license service to many citizens in all parts of the state."

A special feature of the unit was a demonstration of a cathode ray tube which shows an immediate record of any driver's record desired. Information is obtained quickly from files in the drivers' license division in Springfield and transmitted, via television screen, to the point of origin.

Mobile Mary also offered inside driver license tests, as well as license renewals, duplicate and corrected licenses.

"We have no immediate plans to duplicate this service," Howlett said. "It was well received and served its purpose."

Course in ancient Greek

The department of foreign languages and literature at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a course in ancient Greek, beginning in the fall quarter.

The course will be taught by Gertrude Drake, professor in the SIUE department of English. Four hours' credit will be given for the course, which will be taught in a three-part sequence through the spring quarter.

According to Miss Drake, "Greek is a difficult but a challenging language because Latin and Greek are the fathers of English and Romance languages."

She said SIUE faculty members already have shown an interest in the course, and it also is open to students.

Mrs. Allen dies at 97

Mrs. Neta (Cliffers) Allen, 97, of the Four Fountains-Nursing Home, Belleville, formerly of Madison, died at 3 a.m. Friday at the nursing facility.

Mrs. Allen was born in Marshville, Mo., and had lived in Madison for 35 years prior to entering the Belleville home seven months ago.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Glenn Allen, in 1938.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Frances Wilson; two sons, Miss and six nephews and one niece.

Funeral services were held Saturday. Arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Three-letter car licenses offered

SPRINGFIELD—Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has reported that the list of all three-letter prefix 1975 Illinois license plates will be released on or before July 20.

"We had hoped to release the list around the middle of June but we had far more requests for new combinations than we anticipated," Howlett said.

The three-letter prefixed plates were issued for the first time in 1974 with a limited number of combinations distributed.

"No more combinations will be added to the 1975 list," Howlett explained. "We have delayed making the final decision until the last possible time to give everyone an opportunity to send in new combinations."

Special requests and reassignment numbers for 1975 may be ordered from Aug. 1 through Sept. 30 along with pre-print applications which will be mailed to all registered owners.

No applications will be accepted until this period.

Pupil services outlined to club

Pupil services that are offered in the Granite City School system are among the best anywhere in the state, according to Vasil Efthymiou, director of pupil personnel services, who spoke Thursday to the Breakfast Kiwanis Club at Charlie's Restaurant.

Pupil services cover such areas as counseling, truancy, health, special education programs, social work and safety.

On the state level, the Department of Pupil Services includes food and transportation, but in Granite City these services are handled by separate departments.

Efthymiou said local schools are averaging between 94 and 95 per cent attendance. He pointed out that truancy cases are handled through a contract with Co-Ordinated Youth Services. In the area of special education, Efthymiou noted that Granite City schools belong to Quad-City Special Education Region One, which is a cooperative program with the Madison and Venice School districts.

The board of directors for Region One consists of one member from each of the three school boards, plus the three superintendents. Efthymiou said Region One provides the finest special education program in Southern Illinois.

Prior to the talk, an informal discussion was held by the members on the dangerous effects of heavy smoking and drinking, as outlined in a new Food and Drug Administration report, can cause. Arno Spomenak was a guest of the club. For the next two weeks, the Breakfast Kiwanis will meet at the International House of Pancakes.

Committee to oversee water supply, treatment courses

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees on Thursday provided for the appointment of a Sewage Treatment and Public Water Supply Operators Training Institute Committee at SIUE at Edwardsville.

The committee is a requirement of the state law which mandated SIUE to establish a Sewage Treatment Operators Training Institute and a Public Water Supply Operators Training Institute.

The Board of Trustees was given the option of creating a single committee to serve both institutes.

By statute, the committee is to consist of three SIUE representatives appointed by the trustees and six members designated by the governor, three of whom must be sewage treatment operators and three of whom must be public water supply operators.

The board's appointments to the committee are the holders of three of the university's administrative offices or their successors—the dean of the School of Science and Technology, the chairman of the department of chemistry, and the manager of the waste treatment plant.

SIUE has been offering training programs in sewage treatment and public water supply since 1967.

Gov. Dan Walker announced in October that a $2 million grant would be made to SIUE by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for new training facilities for the programs. In March, SIU trustees authorized development of plans and specifications for the new facilities.

Phone careers studied by guidance counselors

"Wow!" exclaimed one wide-eyed guidance counselor gazing at the frames, "you mean to tell me there are 2,400 customer lines in that one little column of metal and wire?"

"I would never have imagined the 'behind the scenes' of the telephone company would look like this," added another counselor as she surveyed the miles of wire in Southwestern Bell's switching equipment room. "It's so complex."

The guidance counselors were touring one of Southwestern Bell's central offices as part of a High School Guidance Counselors' Summer Workshop Program sponsored by the company.

The counselors represented Vashon, St. Mary's, Hazelwood, swer their questions with first-hand knowledge.

"Technical aspects are important, but what we really got out of the workshop was a better understanding of what a phone company job can mean to a student," one counselor summed up.

"And we at the company learned what guidance counselors think of our employees practices, working conditions and the workshop itself," Owen added.

"As a result, we all came closer to finding out what the right job is for each student who might be looking to the phone company for a career."

CAUGHT WITH TV SET

Four boys aged 13 to 15, were turned over to the Madison juvenile officer after they allegedly took a $200 television set from Sterling Television, 420 Madison Ave., Madison, Thursday. A customer saw boys taking the television set out of the store and carry it behind a building at 421 Madison Ave. It was recovered.

'Herbie Rides Again' — good entertainment

By GENTRY TROTTER for KMOX-TV

You don't have to be one of the little people to appreciate one of Walt Disney's best efforts of the year.

The sequel to the "Love Bug" is "Herbie Rides Again," starring Ken Berry, Keenan Wynn and the grand lady of motion pictures, Helen Hayes. It is a constant onslaught of laughs.

This pure, G-rated flick has great camera work and more than its share of special effects.

The story about a car with a mind of its own is a classic, and for all eyes to behold. I rate it as good.

If you wish to see and hear George Segal without a touch of class, then Warner Brothers' "The Terminal Man" is your best bet.

The story of a guy implanted with a computer in his skull, going on a psychopathic lust for blood, does not compute.

However, in computing this entire PG-rated production, I think the producers need a shock-treatment for their sad attempt of a modern day Frankenstein flick. My rating—poor.

Paramount Pictures'

Not so excellent, but only fair, is Columbia Pictures' "Buster and Billie" starring Jan Michael Vincent and Pamela Sue Martin.

The hopeless love affair is centered around the late 1940s. This R-rated flick is a trite venture into lots of sex.

125 referrals in county for legal consultation

One hundred and twenty-five Madison County residents took advantage of a public service offered to citizens by the Illinois State Bar Association and were referred to county attorneys during the first six months of this year, it was disclosed Friday.

"Most of the referrals were made to persons who had never before consulted a lawyer," Thomas S. Johnson, chairman of the ISBA Lawyer Referral Service Committee, said. He added:

"The ISBA operated a statewide referral service through a toll free telephone line (800-252-8908), where a person may receive a referral to a lawyer who will give up to a half-hour interview for a nominal charge.

"After the initial interview, if further legal services are required, the cost is a matter between the lawyer and client."

Johnson concluded, "There is, of course, no requirement for the client to continue with the lawyer after the first visit."

Nationally known drivers to race here Wednesday night

Many of the nation's best-known super sprint race car drivers will gather Wednesday at Tri-City Speedway to compete in the second of a series of four special sprint races on the half-mile dirt oval at the local racing plant.

Among the 50 or more expected to compete here is Bobby Jones.

Jones, a sprint track champion here several years ago when that type of auto racing was a weekly event at the local speedway, captured the first event of the series held in June.

The Danville, Ill., driver started in the eighth position of the 22-car field in the 30-lap main event, and on the 18th lap wrestled the lead away from Wood River's Larry Kirkpatrick to win going away from the pack.

Jones, a barber turned racer, has been sweeping feature races on dirt tracks around the country and most recently posted his eighth consecutive victory this season in competition at Finley, Ohio.

Portell heading benefit celebrity golf tourney

Madison County Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell has been appointed as co-chairman, along with Jack Buck, Mike Shannon and Dennis McDaniel, of the Cystic Fibrosis Celebrity Invitational Golf Tournament, which is held annually.

Portell is the chairman for Madison County. Anyone who would like to enter the golf tournament can do so by writing him at the Circuit Clerk's Office, Court House, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025, and he will send an application.

"I can assure everyone entering this tournament that it is a worthwhile project for a fine cause and it is tax deductible," Portell commented.

The fifth annual Bob Goaly Celebrity Golf Tournament will be held Oct. 14 at Norwood Hills. The event teams sports and political personalities with 207 sponsoring amateurs. It raised more than $90,000 for cystic fibrosis research in the past three years.

The tournament also supports the three cystic fibrosis centers in this area.

The goal for this year's tourney is $40,000, and the entry fee will remain at $200 for each amateur.

leader at Tri-City Speedway. Last month's pre-race favorite, Chuck Amati of Marion, also is expected to compete.

Amati was hospitalized with injuries received in an accident on the 22nd lap of the first event here in June.

These and other top-notch sprint car pilots will line up at 7 p.m. Wednesday for time trials and then begin the series of races to the checkered flag with the first heat race at 8 p.m.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE: National sprint car, race driver Bobby Jones (foreground) of Danville, Ill., will be seeking to repeat his feat in this picture of wresting the lead away from Wood River's Larry Kirkpatrick (8). They will vie in a super sprint car spectacular Wednesday at Tri-City Speedway. Jones passed Kirkpatrick on the 18th lap of the initial 30-lap event here to capture top honors in the special racing program.

Gittemeier captures win and point lead

Whatever the sport, eventually the king will fall. Such was the case for defending Tri-City Speedway champion Wil Spalding of Pontoon Beach Friday evening.

Mechanical problems and the skillful driving of Missouri's Len Gittemeier cost him the late model stock car division's point lead at the local track.

Spalding placed fourth in qualifying time trials with a 28.5-second tour around the half-mile dirt oval. Russ Wallace had the fastest time of 27.09, C. C. Corbin was second with 27.50 and Gittemeier had 27.36.

Trailing the defending champion by only 10 points going into Friday's program, Gittemeier finished second in the first heat race behind the winner, Bill Scherer, after Spalding dropped out of the race with mechanical trouble.

Spalding then matched Gittemeier's feat with a second-place finish of his own in the third heat race behind victor Russ Wallace.

The handicap event for the six fastest qualifiers saw Gittemeier pick up 60 points by winning. "Spalding again dropped out with mechanical problems while running in the fourth position.

The point lead battle closed in on the 25-lap feature race, in which Gittemeier would have to finish seventh or better to topple the local racing ace.

Spalding started the main event outside the second row in the 15-car lineup and Gittemeier inside the third row.

At the drop of the green flag, newcomer Kenny Spencer of Troy, Mo., dashed into the lead and soon opened a quarter-mile gap between his car and the rest of the pack.

Enter horse show

Granite Cityans Herman Schermer and Leonard Law have entered the trot tractors division and Edward Ennis of Granite City has entered the harness and pony roadster classes of the Hillsboro, Mo., Horse Show and Festival being held this year on July 25, 26, 27 and 28.

The annual event includes a 65-class horse show, a home economics exhibit, special entertainment and a midway with exhibits, rides, amusements and displays.

Cash prizes, trophies and ribbons are awarded to winners of the horse show, held on four consecutive nights, and western shows on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Motorcyclists resume tomorrow

American Motorcycle Association short-track professional cycle racing on the quarter-mile dirt oval at Tri-City Speedway will resume at 7 p.m. tomorrow, beginning with time trials.

Tomorrow's program will mark the seventh week of competition here.

It has been dominated thus far by national riders from Texas. The only other overall victory was three-time track champion Neil Keen of St. Louis.

Guy McClure and Mike Kidd, both of Texas, captured the first two weeks of main event competition before Keen interrupted the Southwest riders' winning streaks the third week.

Women's softball meet title goes to Mercer

Undefeated Mercer posted a 4-2 win over Bill's Auto Body at Wilson Park yesterday to capture the Illinois Amateur Softball Association women's slow pitch district tournament.

Mercer, which advanced straight to yesterday's championship game after making a clean sweep to victory in the tournament elimination games, scored three runs in the fourth inning and one in the sixth on a total of nine hits.

Bill's collected ten hits but could only muster two runs, both in the sixth. Winning pitcher was Barb Simmons.

Bill's advanced to the title game by defeating Sammy's 4-1 in a semifinal contest yesterday, with Betty Arbeiter pitching.

The three finalists have earned the right to compete in a state meet at Caseyville Aug. 1 to 4. Defending state champion Pettibone Produce of Granite City is also entered.

Braves scalped twice

Defending Belleville Area Traveling League champion O'Fallon swept a doubleheader yesterday over the visiting Granite City Braves, 5-3 and 9-7, dropping the local team into second place (8-3) behind Belleville East (9-2) for the first time this season.

The first game saw Braves hurler Kirk Champion allow only four hits but the four men he walked tipped the scales. O'Fallon scored twice in the second, once in the third and twice in the fifth.

The Braves were shut out until the sixth inning, when Ed Schmidt walked and scored on Jeff Scarborough's triple. Jim Jackson smashed his third homer of the year to move the Braves within two runs of the lead squad.

O'Fallon in the second game jumped pitcher Randy Lysterla for four runs in the second inning.

The Braves came back in the third as Lysterla walked, Ed Schmidt singled and Ed Schmidt sacrificed. Scarborough cut O'Fallon's lead in half by driving in both runners with a hit.

O'Fallon scored three more in the fifth, extending its lead to 7-2, but the Braves came charging back in the same inning.

Rich Schmidt reached base on an error and his brother Ed homered to centerfield. With two out, Tom Manogian singled, Larry Schleicher, in as a pinch-runner, stole second.

Fancher was safe on an error that moved Schleicher to third, and Fancher stole second. With O'Fallon's catcher trying to get him out on the steal, Schleicher reached home to make the score 7-5.

O'Fallon added two runs in the sixth and Gary Meyer's single led off the Braves' half of the inning.

Dave Goodyear, running for Meyer, went to second as Rich Schmidt walked. Goodyear scored as Ed Schmidt reached base on an error.

In the seventh, Rich Fancher smashed a solo home run. The Granite City squad was to have played Belleville East last Thursday but the contest has been rescheduled for 6 p.m. this Thursday at Wilson Park.

Next Sunday, the Braves travel to Belleville West for a 1:15 p.m. doubleheader.

Motorcyclists resume tomorrow

Texan James Lee has swept to victory in two consecutive outings.

Last week, the track title contender experienced mechanical problems early in the program and was on the verge of having his consecutive winning record snapped by Millstadt's Danny Kirkland and Granite Cityan Danny Durborn until heavy rains forced cancellation of the feature race.

Riders from all over the country will be on hand tomorrow in an attempt to break the track record of 15.81 seconds set by young Lee on July 2.

Lee broke the old record of 15.90 set by his brother, Robert, last year.

Robert Lee is not expected to compete here again until next week, when the defending track champion returns from his honeymoon.

6 straight Legion wins by Post 113

Color American Legion Post 113 of Granite City "happy" as it heads into the home stretch of 22nd District softball competition this week with six consecutive victories after downing Danville 5-4 in a nine-inning contest at Wilson Park yesterday.

Four of Post 113's wins came this weekend—4-3 Friday over Alton, 7-3 and 3-1 Saturday in a doubleheader at New Baden, and yesterday's contest.

Danville jumped in front 1-4 in the opening inning and Granite City made it 1-1 in the third. Dennis Solberger walked and advanced on a sacrifice bunt by Ray Smith. A hit by Mike Martinez scored Solberger.

The visitors went ahead 4-1 in the fifth on two walks, an error and two hits off starting pitcher Smith.

Martinez doubled and scored on Billy Carr's single to narrow the margin in the sixth.

Granite City made the score 4-3 in the seventh. Solberger walked, Martinez reached base on a fielder's choice, Brett Chapman singled and Carr walked to lead the bases. Keith Chapman walked, forcing in Martinez.

Post 113's tying run came in the eighth. Dave Dombek doubled and Solberger reached base on a fielder's choice which advanced Dombek to third when the ball got past the baseman, John Scott singled.

Greg Terrell was credited with the win after relieving Smith in the ninth.

Each club collected 11 hits, but Granite City's 11th hit proved decisive.

With two men out, and the game threatening to go extra innings, Kirk Chapman and Greg Linhart got hits and Larry Petri reached base on a shortstop error to lead the bases.

Boat races attract 2,000

Over 2,000 gathered on the shores of Horseshoe Lake Sunday to see the thrills and spills of hydroplane racing in the 12th annual Granite City Kiwanis boat races.

Tim Seibold, a third-generation racer, 10-year-old grandson of Bill Seibold Sr., a local Kiwanian, boat racer and former hydro racer, won first place in the M-hydro class, reaching speeds of 40 miles per hour.

Another local entry, Paul Bogosian, a favorite to win in the Class D Runabout event, was in first place until his boat spun out in a turn.

John Dorch of St. Louis was tossed out of his boat, being knocked unconscious in the water. But he was picked up, revived and went on to win the Class B Runabout.

Other winners were: Barry Anderson, Morton's Grove, Ill., Class A & B hydro; Bill Van, Festus, Mo., Class C hydro; Rex Hall, Kansas City, Mo., D-hydro.

Joe Bartow, DePue, Ill., Class A Runabout; Stanley Lovendusky, Kansas City, Mo., Class C-1 Runabout; and Rich Krier, Davenport, Iowa, Class D Runabout.

It was a warm day, but we Dombek provided the winning margin when his single drove in Chapman.

In the first game of Saturday's double win at New Baden, John Scott pitched the distance and struck out six to post his first win of the season.

Martinez opened the scoring for Granite City with a first inning homer. It was his, and the team's first home run of the year.

New Baden retaliated with a three-run third inning but Granite City broke the game open in the fifth with six runs.

Rookie player Eldon Warfield singled, Solberger walked, and John Scott led the bases with a bunt single. Martinez hit a sacrifice fly, and Keith Chapman got an infield hit. Paul Mushill walked to score Solberger.

A three-run triple by Jim Kafka and Linhart's single put the margin in the sixth.

The second contest went eight innings but both teams failed to score in the regulation seven.

Winning pitcher Bill Dickerson had a one-hitter going for Granite City until New Baden scored on a hit in the eighth.

Post 113 put its bats to work and produced three runs on singles by Kafka and Linhart and a homer by Larry Petri to take the win.

New four games out record, Post 113 can only continue to play the role of "the spoiler" when it plays host to East St. Louis at 5 p.m. Wednesday at Wilson Park and in its 8 p.m. season finale Friday at Cahokia.

Granite City presently holds down the sixth position in league standings. Only the top four teams will qualify to compete in district playoffs.

Meet Tuesday on tackle football

A special meeting will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Nameki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues, to enlist additional coaches and directors into the Granite City tackle football program.

The club has brought its number of teams participating to four with the recent addition of two new teams.

Persons interested in aiding the program are to attend the meeting.

Collision of 2 players forces team to forfeit

The Mercer nine on Sunday played Livingston to an 8-4 tie and then handed the host team its second win of the season by forfeiting in the 10th inning when two players were injured and Mercer had no replacement for them.

The forfeit was agreed upon by coaches of both teams after Mercer's shortstop, Rich Schardan, and Leftfielder Harvey Breckner were taken to a Stanton hospital to be treated for injuries received when they collided on the field going for a flyball. Both were examined and released.

The seasaw game saw Livingston take a 1-0 lead in the second inning and Mercer posted three runs in the third to lead ahead 3-2.

Dave Huddieston walked and scored on Larry Corey's triple. Bob Scott singled, Schardan walked and Bill Campbell singled.

Mercer scored two more in the fourth before Livingston made it 5-5 in the same inning. Jack Scarborough singled, stole second and scored on a hit by Corey. A double by Scott followed.

The local nine took the lead in the fifth with two runs. Breckner and Vic Reznack both singled, Scarborough walked

Post 307 bows 11-6

Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 fell to 2-14 for the season in District 22 competition after losing 11-6 at East St. Louis Thursday.

V-M tallied two runs in the second before the host team rallied with ten in the same inning.

A fourth-inning rally by Post 307 produced four more runs for a 10-6 game, but East St. Louis added to the score in the sixth. The game was called because of darkness after that inning.

Each club collected seven hits. East St. Louis had four errors and Post 307 two. Jim Beaver started for V-M and was relieved after two innings by Ed Kowalczyk.

Kidney transplant for Mrs. Derossett

Mrs. Mary Derossett, 47, of 2813 Dale Ave., was in good condition during the weekend at the John Cochran Veterans' Hospital, St. Louis, after undergoing a kidney transplant operation there July 10.

Mrs. Derossett had been using a kidney machine to cleanse her blood since May 1973, when both kidneys began failing due to polycystic kidney disease.

A kidney became available in Arkansas from a 19-year-old boy fatally injured in a motorcycle accident. The organ was flown to St. Louis for the transplant.

Members of Mrs. Derossett's family report she is in good spirits and say doctors have found no signs of her body attempting to reject the new kidney.

Mrs. Derossett is the wife of Paul Lee Derossett and the mother of Steve and Kenneth Derossett, both of Granite City. Paul Derossett Jr., residing at home, and Mrs. Phillip (Paulette) Clemensen of Granite City.

The family said kidneys may be sent to Room A406 at the John Cochran Hospital.

Church congregations to give blood

The Red Cross bloodmobile unit will be stationed at St. Margaret-Mary Church, 1000 St. Clair Ave., today through Wednesday from 2 p.m. until 6:45 p.m., to accept donations from participating church members in the Quad-City Church Women United's blood donor program.

The bloodmobile will be located during the same hours on Thursday at St. Mary's

Mrs. Helen Baran, local Church Women United blood chairman, said 15 participating church congregations are expected to take part in the donor program this week.

Blood needs are guaranteed to church members if one-fourth of each congregation's membership donates blood to the Red Cross in a given year, she explained.

Volunteers to help at the two bloodmobile stations still are needed and may call Mrs. Baran, at 878-9116, or Mrs. Victor Anderson, at 878-8811, for assignments.

Doctors Robert Hill, Gale Jones, Gerard Baggot and Felicia Koch will serve on a standby basis while the bloodmobile unit is in the Quad-Cities.

Farm exports growing

Expanding U.S. farm exports, which in the 1973-74 fiscal year reached a record $21 billion, have put American agriculture in "a new ball game."

That point was emphasized by David L. Hume, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service, in speaking to the Illinois Farm Bureau tentative resolutions committee. The committee met in Bloomington through Thursday to kick off the organization's policy development work.

Tracing the growth of American farm exports, which have contributed significantly to the U.S. trade balance, Hume said he believes the export market can last "as a substantial market, and a growing market, for U.S. agriculture."

He said the department expects farm exports to drop in the government's new fiscal year which began July 1—"but only to somewhere between $17 billion and $18 billion, second only to the record established in the fiscal year just past."

Reasons for the expected decline, barring world crop disaster: The rate of economic growth has slowed in the principal markets; high petroleum prices are reducing foreign exchange reserves in some major countries; prospects are for increased world grain production; and prices have moderated.

The big "if" in the export picture, Hume said, is oil. How much will high prices for petroleum imports reduce the ability of importing nations to buy other products, including agricultural products, on the international market? "High oil prices will put a strain on the financial resources of many importers and, particularly in the non-oil producing developing countries, may affect their ability to meet import requirements," Hume said.

A crucial issue in the oil situation will be how the oil exporting countries, which means mostly the Arab countries, invest the money they get for their exported oil—the surplus beyond what they use to pay for their own imports; in other words, their foreign exchange reserves.

Hume pointed out that American agricultural policy has undergone a 180-degree turn since the beginning of this decade.

"After 40 years of restrictions and cut-backs, farmers are producing what they choose, as they choose, in response to their assessment of the market, foreign as well as domestic. The government is not paying a single farmer to hold land out of production this year."

It is the foreign market, Hume said, that has made this new policy of farm operating freedom work, and will hold the key to its continuing success.

Agriculture is in a new game and the name of that game is foreign trade.

Hume said the farm export trade has gone from $6.8 billion in 1967 to the latest year's total of more than $21 billion.

Acknowledging the fact that much of the dollar volume is higher because prices are higher, the official noted that the volume of farm commodities going into export markets has nearly doubled in four years.

"In terms strictly of production, we are now exporting about two-thirds of our wheat, half of our soybeans, one-fourth of our feed grains, and significant amounts of many other farm commodities," Hume said.

Farmers, he said, can gear for full efficiency to get the lowest possible unit cost. He added:

"Consumers may not understand it, but this means lower unit cost of the raw materials destined ultimately for the family table."

Camp Sunnen earns top national rating

Camp Sunnen, operated by the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council and located near Potosi, Mo., received an "A" rating in a camp inspection last week by Carl Bauman, regional camp inspector for the North Central Region, with offices in Kansas City, Mo.

Sonnen scored 117 out of a possible 118 points. The one point taken off was because the camp did not have a resident camp chaplain.

Bauman said "I am really impressed with the entire program here. You are offering your scouts a tremendous variety in programs."

The inspector also praised efficiency and cleanliness of the commissary operation.

Local scout officials participating in the camp inspection with Bauman were: Reginald Mennerick, council camping chairman; G. Rollin Henn, executive board member; Jack Vance, camp commissioner; Henry Hellrich, member of the camping committee; William Monical, council scout executive; and J. Richard Hooks, camp director.

Camp Sunnen opened for the first time in June 1953 with 54 campers and 12 staff members in attendance in the first week. Food was brought in hot from a neighboring St. Louis YMCA camp and eaten in an aluminum building.

In 1955, the camp went to a complete patrol (group of six to eight scouts) system of cooking. Since 1955, the camp has received national recognition for the training campers receive in working together, leadership, skills and physical fitness.

Camp Sunnen is not strictly a summer operation, as the camp and its facilities are used the year around by local troops for weekend camping, adult training courses, explorer activities and Order of the Arrow functions.

Scouts camp in individual troop campsites, supervised by volunteer adult leaders.

Two new sites were opened last year and named after two veteran local scouts, Henry D. Karandjeff and Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr.

Another new troop campsite was opened this summer, bringing the total to 14 named in honor of G. Rollin Henn, a 50-year scouting veteran still active in the program.

When the scouts of the Plaza Bird Council, with offices in Wood River, were forced to close their camp near Godfrey two years ago, they were welcomed to participate at Sunnen in the summer and continue to use it.

Scouts from outside the Cahokia Mound Council pay a higher camp fee than the local scouts for use of the camp.

The camp began the fifth week of its seven-week 1974 summer season Sunday.

Attending from the Quad-Cities are:

Troop 28, sponsored by Parkview School Parent-Teacher Association, Ross Halbrook, leader—Jerry Halbrook, David Carnahan, John Wiggins, Brad Bishop, Mike Niemeyer, Jim Owens, Chris Roberts, Bryan Mainer, Leslie Kee, Marty Rose and Tim Brown.

Troop 96, sponsored by Maryville School Parent Teachers Association, Newman Stafford, leader—Jim Shemwell, Tom Shemwell, Jeff Mack and Tom Sawyer.

Highway systems behind the times

Ted Mikesell, executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC), told Thursday's meeting of the Optimist Club, held in the YMCA, that highway systems in this part of the state and Southern Illinois are in poor condition.

If all the currently proposed improvements were started today, 35 years from now the system would still be behind the needs, he asserted.

Mikesell told the Optimists that, hopefully by the summer or fall of 1975, work will resume on paving the Great River Road and the portion between Venice and the Army Installation can be completed.

He said there is little hope in the near future for major improvements on Highways 159 and 157.

The Bi-State Development Agency will probably take over many of the present port authorities, according to the SIMAPC official. He emphasized that there is a need for additional public docking facilities.

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City Township supervisor, who was a guest at the meeting, told the club that the new Granite City Township building to be constructed on the site of the old Central Junior High School can be an asset to this community.

Other guests of the club included Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison and Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City.

G. H. Sternberg was the program chairman, Thursday.

State Rep. Horace Calvo will be the guest speaker at next Thursday's meeting. He will discuss legislation dealing with property taxes.

He said Bond agreed to look into the issue, and Calvo warned, "These things don't move too fast."

He said he hopes to have some word before the village board's next meeting July 25.

Trustee Marvin Ribbing said he felt the state was ignoring the village in highway markings.

Chair-less village hall to get seating

The Pontoon Beach Village Board on Thursday night authorized expenditure of up to $500 to purchase chairs for the village hall meeting room.

Those in the audience had to stand or sit on the floor Thursday night because borrowed chairs the village had been using were returned to the owner.

Village President Floyd David Moss reported that he has been unable to make progress in urging the state highway division to install a guard rail along the Pontoon Beach Lions' Club park along Highway 111 on the north edge of the village.

He had asked for the guard rail to protect children in the park from an automobile possibly crashing through the fence and going into the park.

The district representative for the highway division "said it was not their business because it was not a hazard to motorists," Moss related.

Attorney Horace Calvo said he had discussed the issue with Langhorne Bond, director of the Illinois Department of Transportation, "about this 'put it there yourself' attitude which I felt was somewhat unreasonable."

He said Bond agreed to look into the issue, and Calvo warned, "These things don't move too fast."

Census may aid effort to get Pontoon Beach postal station

Efforts to have the U.S. Postal Department approve a postal substation for Pontoon Beach were renewed by the village board Thursday night.

Floyd David Moss, president of the village board, said all correspondence sent from the village hall will list the return address of Pontoon Beach, Ill., rather than Granite City. He urged others mailing to Pontoon Beach to use that designation, but to include the Granite City zip code of 62040.

He said if there is a great deal of mail addressed to Pontoon Beach, it may aid in the board's efforts to achieve a postal substation in the village.

Village Attorney Horace Calvo, who also is a state representative, pledged his assistance but said the village will have a better chance of achieving the substation after a new federal census verification in the village is completed.

An unofficial village census indicated 3,400 to 3,500 persons now reside in it, while the official 1972 census showed 3,235 residents.

Calvo said that if the census certifies the increase, "I don't see how they can turn you down for a postal branch."

The village already has contracted with the federal government for a new census which is to be conducted in the near future.

Dr. Dean Rochester, trustee, warned the board, "Several years ago, the postmaster general promised us a state representative, pledged his assistance but said the village homes.

"Obviously, that's a trade-off and nobody would take that, so we dropped it," Rochester added.

Moss said he has contacted U.S. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) about a substation and was told that people should start putting Pontoon Beach on the letter addresses.

Arrested for moving auto

Mark A. Scaturro, 18, of 4210 Maryville Road, was charged with attempted auto theft after Pontoon Beach police reported they saw an auto pushing an unattended car on Pontoon Beach on Tuesday at 3:45 a.m. Friday.

Officers said Scaturro's auto and a small foreign car had their bumpers connected. The cars were northbound out of the Gaslight Walk Apartments and turned west onto Pontoon Road, it was alleged.

At Pontoon Road and Division Street, the bumpers disconnected, the foreign car spinning in the street and the other auto striking it in the side.

The small car was found to be owned by Marian Hulse, 329 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach.

Honor Mrs. Blackshere

Two alumni of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were honored Sunday at SIUE Day at Busch Memorial Stadium in St. Louis in ceremonies preceding the Cardinals vs. Braves baseball game.

The first "outstanding young alumnus" award was presented to A. Kent Reed, president of the Metropolitan Bank, Alton, in recognition of "outstanding professional achievement by a graduate of SIUE prior to his (or her) 31st birthday."

The first annual "alumnus of the year" award went to Mrs. Roger (Margaret) Blackshere of Madison, first SIUE graduate to serve on the university's Board of Trustees.

A 1968 graduate of SIUE, Reed was elected as president shortly after his 27th birthday. Son of a Baptist minister, Reed was the first treasurer of Fairview Heights — at age 24.

He has served as a director of the St. Clair County Crime Control Commission.

Appointed an SIUE trustee in 1973 by Gov. Dan Walker, Mrs. Blackshere is a kindergarten teacher in Madison. She received her bachelor's degree from SIUE in 1965 and her master's in 1972.

Mrs. Blackshere is chairman of the State Legislative Committee of the Illinois Federation of Teachers.

The award-winning SIUE trustee says she isn't worried about women's liberation. "I like to think of women's equality rather than liberation," she comments.

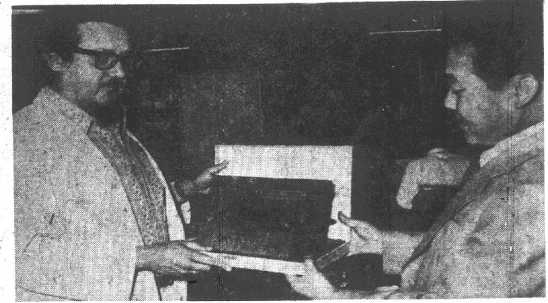

"Women have equal opportunity getting an education. I have no quarrel there. Hiring practices and salaries are another story. Here, women need to fight."

"I believe every woman has to decide for herself what she needs out of life and then do what is necessary to achieve this goal."

2001 studying—what else?—space topics

Explorer Post 2001, sponsored by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Granite City office, on Thursday evening held a special meeting to adopt new bylaws and to elect temporary officers.

The post was organized in December 1973 and specializes in the investigation of strange phenomena, unidentified flying objects and space exploration.

Members present agreed to allow a maximum membership of 30 persons into the post. This would allow each of the three phases of 2001's specialization to have ten persons involved.

Another insertion into the bylaws was that election of permanent officers will be held during the last meeting in August and every six months thereafter.

Elected to temporary office Thursday by the 15 members present were: president, Forrest Crawford; vice-president, Jeff Hayes; secretary, Lorrie Webb; treasurer, Tom Sawyer; and historian, James Thompson.

Metropolitan Life's institutional representative, Ray Grisham, outlined his company's medical research study in the space program and asked Keith Cattani to assist Post Advisor Richard Geppert in guiding Post 2001.

Two parents of Post 2001 members were accepted as members of the adult committee—Clyde Sawyer and Ken Thompson.

William Monical, scout executive of the Cahokia Mound Council, explained to those present that exploring is a program of life experiences for young adults under the guidance of business, professional, trade, service and other groups sponsoring the program.

Monical said Exploring provides youths between the ages of 15 and 21 with self-motivated and self-conducted activities which include social, vocational, outdoor, citizenship, personal fitness and service experiences, both flexible and relevant to the young persons' immediate interests.

Young adults can obtain membership information by contacting Geppert at 876-9514.

Charges filed after dispute

Eugene Martin, 37, of 1208 W. Pontoon Road, was charged with two counts of battery after an alleged fight in his home at 11:15 p.m. Thursday.

Officials were told Martin had threatened to kill his wife, Mrs. Patricia Martin, and he allegedly was choking her when Mrs. Martin's son, Devin Byars, 15, tried to stop his stepfather.

Martin allegedly injured the boy's right elbow and left shoulder in a scuffle. Byars was taken by ambulance for hospital treatment after the incident and later was released.

While Byars and his mother were at the hospital, Martin allegedly went to a neighbor's home to get a younger son of Mrs. Martin. He allegedly took the younger child home and telephoned Mrs. Martin, telling her to return home if she wanted to see the son alive again. Mrs. Martin called police.

He placed the younger boy in a clothes chute before the mother arrived with police, it was alleged, and then told them that the boy was not there. The boy was located in the clothes chute and Martin was arrested. Martin was taken for treatment of cuts to the top of his head suffered in the earlier scuffle, but declined treatment and was taken to the Granite City Jail.

Lions may sell Sportsman Club

A discussion on selling the Sportsman's Club, 10th and Iowa Streets, Madison, which is owned by the Madison Lions Home, Inc., occupied the bulk of Thursday evening's meeting of the Madison Lions Club.

Lion President Andy Economy instructed Secretary James Riskovsky to send a letter to all members of the club informing them that at next Thursday's meeting a decision on the sale will be considered. The club has been discussing such a sale for the past month. The possibility of purchasing another building is being considered by the service club.

Several members have expressed views that the club does not need to own a building, due to the expenses involved in the initial purchase, equipment that would be needed and continued upkeep.

Lion Matt Ozanich, treasurer, noted that if the club sold the present building and did not buy a new building, at the end of one year it might be stronger financially.

It was pointed out that in one of the offers to purchase the Sportsman's Club, the buyer has offered to let the Lions continue to hold their meetings and other functions there.

Another suggestion made was to sell the present building and put the money in a special building fund; hold extra fund-raising projects; and then build a new structure on a lot already owned by the club.

In other business, President Economy appointed Lion Christ Pashoff as chairman of the club's eyeglasses committee.

Masked man flees

An armed man dressed as a hospital patient, but with a pillowcase mask over his face, attempted to rob two women employees of St. Elizabeth Hospital at their office on a floor of the Doctors' Wing at 12:05 a.m. today.

The man first was seen in an elevator alcove and went to the rear office, where he displayed a small pistol in his left hand. He was wearing a blue hospital patient's gown and carried a small blue suitcase in his right hand.

A pillowcase, with holes cut in it for vision, was over his head. The robber said, "This is a holdup. Lie on the floor."

One employee screamed to another office worker and the man ran to an exit.

A search of the building was made and officials found a blue hospital gown, a pair of pants and the pillowcase along the outside wall of the emergency room. The suitcase was not found.

The man was about 5 feet, 7 inches tall. He was thin and was believed to have blond or light brown hair. By his voice, he seemed to be either a teenager or in his early 20s.

Make current airport study the last—Price

Congressman Melvin Price (Dem. 23rd Ill.) has informed Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar of his desire that the latest study of the St. Louis airport situation "will be a study to end all studies."

Rep. Price had received a letter from Brinegar in June indicating that the secretary required "an updated appraisal of the alternatives of continued use of Lambert Field" in order to make a final decision whether or not to build a new airport at Columbia-Waterloo, Ill.

In his response, Rep. Price emphasized that "there have been at least 25 studies on the question," and asserted that each item of work in the new study has been previously performed by various agencies and consultants.

Although Brinegar said the Lambert study was a "six-month study," he did not indicate whether a final decision on airport construction would be forthcoming in six months.

Rep. Price has requested that the secretary state the anticipated completion date of the study "so that steps may be taken to implement the report which we believe will recommend selection of the Columbia-Waterloo site."

Courage award won by Hough

A Massachusetts newspaper editor last night was named winner of the annual Elijah Parish Lovejoy Award for Courage in Journalism, presented by the School of Journalism of Southern Illinois University.

Henry Beetle Hough of the Vineyard Gazette, a newspaper at Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, Mass., received the award at the opening session of the 120th annual convention of the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors, which runs through Friday at Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton.

Hough has fought to preserve the natural state of the area since he and his wife bought the Gazette in 1920. He has written countless articles about the forested hills, and less beaches and varieties of wildlife on the island called Martha's Vineyard.

Since 1972, he has supported a bill introduced into the U. S. Senate that year by Sen. Edward Kennedy to protect the natural state of the area and prevent businesses from carving up the island and exploiting it.

Delay report on SIU governing structure

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees voted Thursday to extend the deadline to Sept. 30 for a final report of the Ad Hoc Committee to Review Governance Report.

The committee's report will be discussed at the October meeting of the trustees at SIUE. A progress report will be given by the committee at the September meeting of the trustees in Carbondale.

The committee has been charged with the responsibility of proposing ways to assure maximum autonomy for the SIU campuses at Edwardsville and Carbondale. Each campus is represented on the committee.

by 10 members from the faculty, staff and student body.

The SIUE section of the committee, with Vaughn Lindsay, dean of the Graduate School, as chairman, met at SIUE Thursday to begin analyzing the SIU system as it relates to the SIUE campus.

The Carbondale half of the committee will meet Wednesday at SIUC. C. Addison Hickman, professor of economics, is committee chairman for Carbondale.

A meeting of the full committee will be held July 24 at SIUE at 2 p.m. in the president's conference room. The meetings of the committee are open to the public.

Girl, 5, recovering after being given drugged candy

A Granite City police investigation is under way on reports that a 5-year-old girl was given drugs while playing in Worthen Park July 3.

The girl was in serious condition after the incident, but since has recovered and returned home. Her mother said she had left the girl with a babysitter at the Shamrock Apartments, across from the park on Maryville Road.

The girl was playing in the park when some boys were reported to have given her chocolate candy containing drugs, including what was believed to be LSD.

When the mother got her child from the babysitter, she reported the girl acted strangely and tried to jump through a window. The mother took the girl to the hospital.

Hartigan political star still rising

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

It's been a busy time for Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan. He has received widespread publicity as one of 10 Illinoisans named by Time magazine last week among the 200 of the Americans expected to play important roles in shaping the nation's future.

Later Hartigan, 36, attracted a throng of more than 1,200 persons who packed a high school auditorium at Cicero to hear the lieutenant governor discuss plans for bettering conditions for the elderly, a field in which he has gained a reputation as somewhat of an expert.

But what surprised and pleased the Hartigan supporters even more was the appearance at the meeting of a sizeable number of younger people who eagerly sought his autograph.

Buoyed by the new surge of popularity in his home state, Hartigan, accompanied by his wife, Marge, and children were off to the national lieutenant governor's conference at Albuquerque, New Mexico, where Hartigan was scheduled to make a major presentation on "America's Elderly—A Matter of Dignity."

The Hartigan phenomenon continued to amaze cynics at the Statehouse.

A virtual unknown when chosen by then Lt. Gov. Paul Simon to be his running mate in the 1972 bid for the Democratic nomination for governor, Hartigan after only a year and a half in office may have surpassed Simon to become the best known lieutenant governor in Illinois history.

What is most impressive about this achievement is that it was accomplished in the face of an array of obstacles. He wound up running for state office not with Simon, but with primary winner Dan Walker, whose resentment of Hartigan has become a fact of life in Springfield.

Hartigan also inherited an office which under the new Constitution had been stripped of past major functions, including that of presiding over the State Senate.

The 1970 Constitution has only one sentence for the lieutenant governor: "The Lieutenant Governor shall perform the duties and exercise the powers in the Executive Branch that may be delegated to him by the governor, and that may be prescribed by law."

Walker, who clearly fears Hartigan as a potential political rival, has been reluctant to give him major assignments.

Hartigan has performed well in those he has undertaken, including negotiations for the Illinois-based St. Louis area airport and the cause of the elderly, both tasks assigned by Gov. Walker.

He has initiated a number of efforts on his own, including programs to strengthen and improve the Illinois State Fair. Hartigan's successes have evoked jealousy and occasional retribution from Walker and his top aides. More than once, the governor has appropriated for himself proposals originally advanced by Hartigan, the latter contends.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Mon., July 15, 1974 Page 12

The legislative windup has seen a Walker effort to push Hartigan out of the Illinois energy resources development effort. Those who interpret this as merely a power struggle are wrong. Walker is determined not to share the limelight in what could become a popular political issue.

Not only has Hartigan had to contend with the animosity of his party's top public official, he has had little help from a legislature with a Republican majority, not eager to build up a promising young Democrat.

How has Hartigan done so well with the odds so heavily against him? There are several reasons.

He is a "new face" in Illinois politics. In this state, as elsewhere, the voters are eager for new leaders and new ideas. Hartigan has a good personality, presents a youthful, vibrant appearance. He has quiet charm.

Ironically, the treatment by Walker has won him sympathy and attention that would not ordinarily accrue to the holder of what was intended to be an obscure office.

But political popularity does have its drawbacks. Hartigan has received telephone threats, and plainclothes state troopers keep an eye out for him.

In recent days, someone called Hartigan's Springfield home, warning that "if you don't stop talking, you'll lose more than your career."

But beneath the Statehouse Dome, many feel that young Neil Hartigan will keep on going to bigger things.

New water rates in effect

Customers receiving water bills from the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. this week and hereafter will notice an increase in the bills.

A rate increase of 12.7 per cent was made effective by the company July 8. Bills received for service through Aug. 6 will reflect only a portion of the increase, as part of the bill will represent the old rate and part the new rate, officials explained.

Other water districts which purchase water wholesale from the East St. Louis and Interurban Co. are expected soon to announce increases in rates to cover the extra cost of water to those districts.

A spokesman for the Interurban firm said the minimum quarterly bill under the new rate has increased from $11.04 to $12.24, up $1.20. The minimum bill is for customers using 1,200 cubic feet or less of water each three months.

The minimum monthly rate, for 400 cubic feet or less of water per month, now is $4.08, or 40 cents higher than the former rate of $3.68.

After the minimum is reached, water now costs $1.02 per 100 cubic feet, up 10 cents from the former rate of 92 cents. The $1.02 rate applies for the use of up to 3,300 cubic feet per quarter.

An auto allegedly entered the alley, skidded about 72 feet and struck the parked car of Leo Moore, 2117 Washington Ave., pushing the car forward into Moore's motorcycle.

CHRISTMAS IN JULY? Not hardly, but Leo is in Chicago buying more merchandise for the Garden Shop. When he came back from the January trip he told us that he had everything he needed but evidently he changed his mind. We had some out of town visitors shopping in the store last week. One from California and one from Oklahoma. They both left with the same thought, "wish we had a Schermers Bros. back where we live"; it kind of makes you feel real good inside to hear comments like these. For all of you who have been asking about Dr. David Friedman, the report is very encouraging. Still in intensive care at Jewish Hospital, no visitors yet; but he is sitting up now, eating a little more and hopefully his strength will be returning real quick. As the "Doc" would put it: "It looks like I'm going to beat the rap". Market conditions are uneasy to say the least. The best buys are in the produce department, although the meat and dairy departments have been coming up with some astounding values. All of us and all of our managers are talking to lots of suppliers every day trying to find merchandise to sell at the traditional Schermers low price. It's hard to do, but we still manage to find it.

More time to file for student sub-minimum pay

Employers authorized to employ full-time students under the Fair Labor Standards Act at subminimum wages have been given an additional two months to file applications with the nearest regional office of the Wage and Hour Division, U.S. Department of Labor.

These include agricultural and retail or service establishments and institutions of higher education.

Bernard E. DeLury, assistant secretary of labor for employment standards, said the grace period permitting employers to hire immediately, without waiting to complete and submit the new forms, has been extended through Aug. 31.

An initial period ending June 30 had been established when the new Fair Labor Standards

Act amendments became effective May 1, 1974.

DeLury said the additional time is necessary due to the large number of applications still to be distributed, completed and acted on.

He said such employment of full-time students at subminimum wages without certificates continues to be conditioned upon:

(a) Full-time student employment not exceeding the proportions permitted in the regulations.

(b) Payment of not less than 85 per cent of the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Act.

(c) Compliance with requirements respecting permissible hours of employment during the day or week, oppressive child labor, employment outside of school hours, abnormal labor conditions and higher wage standards in other laws or in agreements.

(d) Provision for payment of back wages to full-time students if a certificate is denied or if employment during the grace period exceeds the finally authorized limit.

Employers or employees may obtain more detailed information from their Wage-Hour Division office, listed in directories under U.S. Government, Department of Labor.

Local members of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International will join with others in the Greater Alton Area Chapter for a special program at 7 p.m. Saturday at Alton High School cafeteria, 2200 College Ave., Alton, it was announced today.

Men and women are invited to attend the program, which will feature Chet Taylor, a former professional baseball player, as guest speaker.

Special music will be provided by the Chet Taylor Trio, a recording group rated sixth this year out of 1,484 gospel music groups in the United States.

Taylor and his wife, Lilly, have been recording gospel music for the American Artist Recording Co. since 1970. The group recently performed at the fellowship's rally at the Lodge of the Four Seasons, it was reported.

Taylor played for the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club in 1967 and was offered a contract in 1972 to play with the Kansas City Royals team.

He declined the baseball offer to continue his work in the Christian music field, following in the footsteps of his father who left a prosperous contracting business to become a minister, a spokesman said.

The program is open to anyone interested in hearing Taylor and listening to the trio, the organizers said. Dinner will not be served at Saturday's meeting.

The program covers visits to physicians and dentists for the purpose of school examinations, general physical and dental checkups and immunization shots for measles (Rubella), whooping cough, tetanus (lock-jaw), polio and diphtheria.

The services are available by appointment at the Quad-City Children's Clinic, located on the fourth floor of the old wing at St. Elizabeth Hospital, or from physicians and dentists who accept the public aid green medical card.

Appointments at the clinic may be made by calling St. Elizabeth Hospital, at 676-2020, and asking for the social service department, a spokesman said.

Clinic hours will be held each week from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday, Thursday and Friday.

Those eligible are infants, 6 weeks, to young adults up to 21 years, whose names appear on the green card issued through the Madison County Public Aid office.

Public aid officials are asking the parents of children requiring physical examinations prior to the start of the 1974-75 school year in September to make an appointment for a medical checkup as quickly as possible.

Miss Jackie Stein wed at First Presbyterian

Miss Jackie Jean Stein, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stein, 3731 Joyce Ave., and David John Cuvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Cuvor, 3815 Pontoon Road, exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight setting at the First Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue.

The Rev. David Bruce Maxton performed the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. on June 28.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white tulle with a Venise lace framed the high neckline and created a mock yoke effect on the fitted bodice. Matching lace traced the natural waistline and cuffed the long, sheer sleeves.

A deep gathered flounce, banded with lace, encircled the hem of the A-line skirt, sweeping backward to fashion the chapel length train. She wore a Venise lace caplet to secure her melody length veil of bridal illusion, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, purple statice and baby breath, trailing long white ribbon streamers.

Miss Sharon Jones, maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Sandy Stein, a sister to the bride, and Mrs. Debbie Pepper, were groomed alike in orchid dotted sashes.

Their dresses were made in Empire style with scoop necklines, long full sleeves and A-line silhouette skirts.

enhanced with a ruffled flounce at the hem. Wide white Nottingham lace trimmed the necklines and cuffs and an orchid satin ribbon and tiny bow defined the high rise waistlines. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and baby breath.

Dawn Muskin, the flower girl, was dressed in a frock similar in style to the adult attendants' dresses.

Stanley Cuvor, the groom's brother, served as best man. Tom Sansone and Danny Jones were groomsmen and Bradley Stein, a brother of the bride, and Joe Hinnen seated the guests.

Scott Jones was the ringbearer. Mrs. Stein, mother of the bride, selected a pink gown designed with a lace bodice and a long, solid pink skirt.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Cuvor, chose a deep red frock with white accessories. Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchid corsages. The newly married couple received more than 250 guests at a reception held at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The bride is employed at Cycle Products Co. in Granite City. Her husband works at Hager Hinge, St. Louis. They are now residing in Granite City.

The free hearing test will be held at SKOTT'S Jewelry and Card Shop 1204 N. 1st St. St. Louis, Mo. If you can't get there on Wednesday, call 876-6414, and arrange for an appointment in the privacy of your home, courtesy of:

Judith Borth becomes Mrs. David P. Brown

The marriage of Miss Judith Ann Borth and David Prather Brown was solemnized in a candlelight ceremony taking place at the Tri-City Park Tabernacle on May 5.

The former Miss Borth is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Borth, Rural Route 4, Edwardsville, former residents of Granite City.

Parents of the groom are Mrs. Shirley Brown of Danville, Calif., and William P. Brown of Edwardsville.

Kevin Hofeditz, soloist, sang "It's Impossible," "One Hand, One Heart," "Wedding Prayer" and "There's a Place for Us." He was accompanied on the organ by Brad Hofeditz.

The Rev. George E. Mandel of Carlinville, Ill., assisted by the Rev. John Polizzi, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with large bouquets of pink and white carnations and the sanctuary was adorned with palms and lighted candles.

The bride chose a gown of ivory silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The gown was designed with an Empire bodice, Victorian neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Re-embroidered Alencon lace applied on English net covered the bodice and sleeves. Seed pearls accented the lace and traced the neckline.

The semi-controlled skirt lavishly trimmed with lace motifs and seed pearls, cascaded from the Empire waistline into a graceful court train.

Her madonna veil of matching re-embroidered Alencon lace over lace silk illusion swept to cathedral length. She carried a cascade of bridal pink roses and stephanotis entwined with ivy.

Mrs. Sharon Powell of Pittsfield, Ill., the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Miss Becky Brown of Danville, Calif., sister of the groom, Miss Connie Lipe, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Orville Ankarlo served as bridesmaids.

They wore floor length gowns of ivory chiffon over taffeta. The Empire bodices and sleeves were trimmed with lace and deep rose velvet ribbon. Each held a bouquet of bridal pink roses, lilies, stephanotis and baby breath, with long ribbon streamers.

Jody Lipe, a cousin of the bride, and Melody Witt served as flower girls. Their dresses matched those worn by the bridesmaids and each carried a basket of pink roses and miniature carnations.

Kevin Townsend, a cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Michael Powell, a brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man, with Jack Brown, brother of the groom, Orville Ankarlo and Michael Lipe as groomsmen.

Jerry Maeras of Madison and Leon Stephens seated the guests.

The bride's mother chose a turquoise chiffon gown, floor length, and carried a nosegay of bridal pink roses and baby breath. The groom's mother selected a long gown in deep pink double knit. She held a nosegay of white gardenia and baby breath.

The newlyweds received guests at a reception held in the church fireside room. A rehearsal dinner was served at the Robert E. Lee Restaurant in St. Louis, Mo.

After a honeymoon trip to Florida and the Bahamas, the couple is now residing in Granite City.

She wore a fingertip veil of bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of white cymbidium orchids.

The honor attendant and maid were dressed in pale blue Empire style gowns, full length. Navy blue velvet and lace accented the collars and short sleeves. Their flowers were white carnations.

About 150 guests greeted the newly married couple at a reception at the Granite City Moose Lodge, 1900 Adams St., immediately after the ceremony.

The rehearsal dinner was served to the bridal party at Charlie's Restaurant. The couple is now at home at 2420s Delmar Ave., following a wedding trip to Florida.

Completes basic

Airman Gary Bathion assigned to Lowry

Gary E. Bathion, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bathion, 720 Washington Ave., Madison, has been assigned to a technical school at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo., after completing six weeks of basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

Airman Bathion enlisted in the Air Force in February and began his tour of duty on May 17.

He is a graduate of Assumption High School, East St. Louis, and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for one year and Western Illinois State University at Macomb also for one year.

WWI state group to mark 20th year

Activities at the state convention in June at Joliet and a visit to Alton State Hospital were described last week at a meeting of Veterans of World War One, Madison Barracks 34 and Auxiliary.

A potluck dinner was served at the noon hour at the VFW Hall on Washington Avenue and separate business sessions followed. John Winklemeyer, commander, and Mrs. Georgia Butler, auxiliary president, were in charge.

Plans were reviewed for the 20th anniversary celebration of the World War One veterans' state organization. The Illinois department was started at the VFW Hall in Granite City in 1954.

University recreation funds voted

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University on Thursday authorized expenditure of up to $127,000 from the Student Welfare and Recreational Facility Building Trust Fund (SWRF) for operation of certain recreational facilities at SIUE during the 1974-75 fiscal year.

The facilities are the air bubble gymnasium and attached shower and locker facilities, the central core playfields adjacent to the bubble, and the Tower Lake recreation facilities.

The budget for each succeeding year's expenditures must be approved by the president of SIUE and submitted annually to the Board of Trustees for its approval.

The budget approved for 1974-75 is approximately 23 per cent of the revenue anticipated in the SWRF account during the fiscal year.

Guidelines for the SWRF account were amended by the Board in May 1972, stipulating that operating costs associated with recreation facilities should be supported by non-state funds.

Budget and operating procedures for the recreation facilities are recommended by the Student Senate at SIUE, with collaboration from the dean of the School of Education, the vice-president for student affairs, the university controller and budget director, and the personnel assigned to the facilities.

Warning device needed at hazardous rail-track crossing on Lake Drive

The Village Board of Pontoon Beach and many residents of the village are circulating petitions which seek warning gates or flashing lights for the dangerous Lake Drive auto-railroad crossing.

Such an installation is needed because of the heavy traffic volume and the incidence of accidents, including the tragic Fourth of July evening death of a 19-year-old Quad-City girl.

Trains pass the Lake Drive crossing at high speed, and motorists' vision is limited by a number of factors, including the steep incline and the presence of tall shrubbery alongside the roadway and tracks.

Railroads traditionally resist installing warning signals due to their high cost. Because of this, all who use the crossing and are aware of the extreme hazard may wish to join in the request to the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield. The task of securing an ICC order will not be accomplished without massive effort.

New Venice school superintendent has extensive experience as educator

Designation of Robert N. Vickers as new superintendent of the Venice public school system places the main administrative duties on the shoulders of an educator with long experience in Venice District Three.

As teacher, principal and assistant superintendent, he has become familiar with a wide range of school concerns, including vocational and special education, curriculum, discipline, transportation, personnel and state-federal funding.

Assessment-enrollment factors have placed the Venice schools in a severe financial squeeze. Mr. Vickers seems uniquely well equipped to work with citizens, the Board of Education and the school staff in seeking solutions.

State may begin determining impact of old, new pollution regulations

Some fascinating statistics may emerge from Senate Bill 589 if signed by Gov. Dan Walker.

Sponsored by Sen. A. C. Bartulis of Benld and Rep. Tom McMaster of Oneida, it calls for a study of the economic impact of existing and future pollution control regulations.

The proposed law passed 54-0 and 116-33 provides for the Institute for Environmental Quality to study pollution control regulations so that any adverse economic effects will be known as well as environmental benefits. It requires the Pollution Control Board to consider the economic impact of proposed regulations in its deliberations.

During the development of present air, water, noise and solid waste rules, no comprehensive study was made of the impact on employment, prices, industrial dislocations and availability of energy.

While further anti-pollution steps are anticipated after passage of such a law, it could lead to them being based on informed decisions rather than guesswork. Economic stability will be a relevant factor, but only one of the points taken into account. Health also will receive full attention.

It seems wise that the bill covers present rules as well as proposed regulations. Study of existing requirements is important because the compounding effect of various rules has a cumulative impact. If such a study is done in piecemeal fashion, as each new individual regulation is proposed, the results could be misleading.

Auto manufacturers gaining confidence

By CARL W. RITTER

Are U.S. auto industry leaders fearful for 1975?

One of General Motors Corp.'s top executives put it this way in an interview:

"Last year was a record year, 1974 is shaping up into a 'pretty good year,' not far from 1972, and 1975 should be the industry's third best year ever."

"There's a kind of pent-up desire for cars," Robert M. O'Connor, the Chevrolet Division's national sales manager said. He called it "a counterreaction" to the fuel shortage and included the larger, family-type cars.

"The consumer is out there looking, and he's got the money," O'Connor said. "Sales have strengthened quite substantially in the last three months, not only for new cars but for used cars."

Destined to provide a big boost in the 1975 model year, O'Connor said, is the fact that "all the auto manufacturers — throughout the industry — are going to have good products."

Credit card financial losses are still vast

By ARCH BOOTH

President

U. S. Chamber of Commerce
With about 300 million credit cards in circulation, the losses are going to be several of them in your own wallet or purse. That makes you a potential victim—or an unwitting accomplice—to credit card fraud.

Happily, credit card losses due to fraud have been declining lately as a per cent of sales, for most card issuers. But the issuers are still absorbing an estimated $100 million a year in fraud-related losses.

Lost or stolen cards can subject users to inconvenience, possible monetary loss and considerable embarrassment, depending on the circumstances. And of course anything that increases the costs of doing business is inevitably passed along to the consumer in the form of higher prices.

How do the crooks get the cards? Sixty per cent of losses involve cards that were lost by, or stolen from, cardholders. Some loss occurs most frequently in hotels or motels. Pickpockets are the next major cause.

The from auto glove compartments are the next on the list. And frequently, cards are lost or stolen in restaurants and bars—you forget your card, or the waiter misplaces it under a plate or napkin in hopes you will overlook it.

Or the waiter may return from the cashier with someone else's card, which has outlived its usefulness, and gamble that you won't notice the switch.

Twenty per cent of fraud-related losses are due to the issuance of cards as the result of false applications.

And another 20 per cent of the losses are attributable to cards that were issued to, but never received by, legitimate applicants.

In the last case, you need to know that it is not necessary for the thief to have your card itself in order to involve your good name in his schemes.

The thief may simply note your name and card number during the course of a credit card transaction, or he may retrieve one of the carbons from a merchant's trash can (you do see your carbons, don't you?).

The next step is easy. The thief studies public records to get what information he needs to complete an application in your name, and then he files an application for a duplicate card and indicates a change of address simultaneously.

The card, with your name and number on it, is sent to the new address, and you never know what's going on until you discover there is serious trouble with your account.

Stolen cards may be used to purchase merchandise for resale through a "fence." Sometimes the merchandise is never changed for cash. The dishonest merchant reports the sale to the credit card company and collects, and then splits with the card thief.

Cards stolen by prostitutes and pickpockets may be used to purchase airline tickets, which are then sold at a discount to travelers. Some cards may be used to get a cash advance from a bank.

Even when the card isn't stolen or lost, you may still be taken. Two sets of card slips can be imprinted at the time of a legitimate transaction. You get one set, and the waiter or gasoline station attendant or clerk fills out the other set later, forging your signature.

Or, a cashier may simply raise the total on a credit card receipt—changing $7.00 to read $70.00, for example.

What can you do to protect yourself and prevent abuse of these useful credit tools? Be alert for these danger signals:

The usual monthly bill from the issuer does not arrive (address changed by a defrauder, perhaps); a charge slip included with the bill indicates a total larger than that on your corresponding "consumer's copy" slip.

A charge slip does not correspond to any of your copies (indicative of double-imprinting at the point of sale); the person behind you at the sales counter seems unusually interested in watching your credit card transaction (as if to note your name and card number).

A renewal card does not arrive several weeks before the expiration date of the current card; you observe double-imprinting by the cashier; or a "waitress" misplaces the card.

Hang onto that card, and at the first sign of trouble notify the card company. It is up to your credit to be careful.

United Nations failing to encourage Mideast peace

(Near East Report)

At least 20 Palestinians were killed June 28 in gun battles at three Beirut refugee camps between two rival Marxist guerrilla forces.

Members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command (PFLP-GC) and the Popular Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PDFL) clashed over control of a guerrilla check-point in the Sabra camp, and the fighting spread to other camps until the PLO arranged a truce.

Where was UNRWA, the UN Agency which theoretically runs the camps?

Why does a UN Agency permit terrorists to dominate its wards, to use the camps as bases for the war against Israel, and as a killing ground for inter-camp warfare between brother Arabs embattled for power and ideology?

This is not the first such inter-Arab conflict. In 1970, Amman ran with blood when terrorists sought to overthrow King Hussein and thousands of refugees and terrorists were slaughtered because UNRWA permitted transformation of refugee shelters into military bases.

Satisfied with providing health care, food rations and education—its most worthy achievement—UNRWA has always pampered its charges to their detriment and sometimes to their death.

It has tolerated fraudulent infiltration of the camps; it has permitted guerrilla organizations to train, feed, store arms, dictate camp policy and mount attacks against Israel.

Going further, UNRWA directors have permitted dissemination of anti-Jewish propaganda, and top UNRWA officials have openly favored Israeli liquidation.

It must have been an altogether different story if UNRWA from the beginning had done everything in its power to encourage resettlement of Arab refugees in Arab lands, where there is room and money to "absorb his way" into the Geneva peace talks and pointed out that such talk and violence are mutually reinforcing Israeli's doubts about the PLO's reliability as a future partner in peace.

The Washington Post pointed out that the Palestinians cannot demand "rights" unless they earn them by accepting responsibility.

It called on the PLO to cease raids from Lebanon and to push—not before a regular like the eight Black Septemberists who executed American diplomats in Khartoum 16 months ago.

Is 'Tuesday-Thursday Club' on way out in Washington?

By LESTER BELL

Press-Record

Washington Bureau
Illinois congressmen could spend one full week a month back home with their constituents if a novel plan wins approval.

The innovation would end the "Tuesday-Thursday Club," a tradition which takes its name from the frequent absence on Mondays and Fridays of members from distant districts.

The plan would hold Congress on a three-week legislative schedule, giving members the fourth week of each month to tend fences in their districts.

Rep. John E. Moss, a California Democrat, is chairman of an ad hoc committee studying the plan. He said in an interview it would be particularly helpful to congressional constituents.

"Midwest and the West—those over two hours' flying time from Washington."

"The plan has great resistance from nearby members," said Moss. He was referring to congressmen from areas adjacent to, or not far from, the District of Columbia.

Moss said the question before his study committee is "how to improve attendance," particularly in committees.

A veteran of 22 years in Congress, he says that as a subcommittee chairman he has difficulty getting a quorum, and often has to pack committee business into mid-week.

This is about the only time he has enough members to "make up" legislation. On the other days, he holds hearings which he usually gets a quorum.

The plan would hold congressmen in Washington for three straight weeks and it envisages the House leadership scheduling all or most legislation for a floor vote on Mondays and Fridays.

By the holding of both ends of the work week, congressmen would be free to schedule committee hearings Tuesday through Thursday.

On the fourth week, they could all go home.

"This would mean members remote from Washington to schedule for a year ahead their meetings with constituents, public agency groups with problems, and to announce the schedule of operations for their district offices," Moss said.

Yes, Moss concedes, all this

Watergate shows a network of lies can't stay intact

By JOHN PINKERMAN

If you can believe what Jeb Stuart Magruder says, the Watergate cover-up has been far more insidious and brutal than any other plot in the history of our country. He says that most of us have believed up to now.

Magruder is a convicted felon, sent to prison for conspiracy to obstruct justice. However, he now says he is contrite and that he has decided to "admit the truth and pay the penalty" and he begs to be believed.

If he is to be believed, there were people in the highest levels of the White House who taped his conversations for the sole purpose of "setting him up" and saving themselves.

They, according to Magruder, guided conversations so as to make themselves appear as knowing nothing of the Democratic National Headquarters burglary-wire-tapping that began the very early June 17, 1972, morning that the burglars were arrested.

Magruder's story is a fascinating and many other fascinating aspects of Watergate.

— If Magruder is now telling the truth — emerge in a book that would well become a useful text for prosecutors trying criminal cases still to come. The book is "An American Crime: One Man's Road to Watergate" (Atheneum; 338 pages; $10).

One of Magruder's motives in writing the book was to raise money to support his family in the manner it had become accustomed to. But, also, appears to be an effort to purge his soul of an incredible number of misdeeds — all in the name of the Watergate and survival of Richard Nixon.

This bright and promising young man tells the story of his life, one that saw him jumping from job to job for a long time. It also has been a life of close family ties, and a life of increased attention to booze, of shaken nerves and finally desperation as he and others sought to hold a network of lies intact.

Finally, the lies fell of their own weight and with their fall fell Magruder and many others. They trudged up to prosecutors' offices, offered to "come clean" and bargained for the best deal they could get behind bars.

Magruder cites too much White House power in the hands of Nixon aides as part of the blame for Watergate. He speaks of countless struggles with men like H. R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman and Charles Colson, struggles that established a tone in the White House caper dreamed up by top men in the Committee to Re-elect the President.

He blames President Nixon's inability to tolerate criticism for part of Watergate — a Nixon trait that included being instinctively overreact in political combat.

And, he blames himself and others working in the Nixon administration. "We could have objected to what was happening or resigned in protest," he says. "Instead, we convinced ourselves that what was going on was right, and plunged ahead."

The book may induce compassion for Magruder as a good man gone wrong and now trying to right his wrongs. More, it bares incredible premeditated schemes by men at the highest levels of our government in continuing plots to "get" opponents whom they classed as "enemies." It is a sad commentary on the politics of the early 1970s.

'Poverty War' agency ends

WASHINGTON — The obituary is being written on the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

In its heyday in the mid-1960s, it was the command center for the war on poverty with a battalion of 4,000 employees and 39 programs.

Today OEO has dwindled to fewer than 1,000 workers and three major programs and appears to be living out the last few months of its existence.

But the programs and the purpose of OEO are not necessarily doomed.

The Washington Post pointed out that the House has voted to continue the remaining OEO programs within Cabinet-level departments while abolishing the federal poverty agency as such.

The measure would authorize a total of $1.7 billion over three years through June 30, 1977.

Senate staffers on the subcommittee of Employment, Poverty and Migratory Labor, handling the measure expect the Senate to follow the House legislation in July.

Then the new Community Services Act must overcome self-administration opposition and a possible veto. However, the overwhelming House approval — 331 to 33 — indicates strong congressional support and enough strength to override a veto.

In the meantime, the 10-year independent agency, whose authority expired June 30, is being extended by a continuing resolution until final legislation is approved.

According to the House Education and Labor Committee, OEO's major program was to aid about 900 local community action agencies — would be housed in a new independent Community Administration (CAA) within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

The new mini-agency would be headed by a presidentially appointed director, confirmed by the Senate, and directly responsible to the HEW secretary. But the secretary could veto the administrative staff he had pushed for — shift any of the community action programs from the CAA.

Currently, OEO principally funds the overhead of the local community action agencies, an OEO spokesman said.

The agency also runs a gamut of projects from poverty programs, such as community food and nutrition assistance, to senior opportunities and services programs for the aged and job development and repair of housing for low-income family members.

These would fall under the new CAA as would an OEO emergency, stop-gap food operation and a summer youth sports program.

Under the House measure, OEO's Senior Opportunities and Services (SOS) program for the elderly poor would be absorbed by HEW's Administration on Aging.

OEO's second major program — community economic development programs in poverty areas — would be transferred to the Department of Labor.

Other transfers under the House bill include: OEO migrant labor and administration programs; training programs to the Department of Labor and projects to aid minority business enterprises to the Small Business Administration.

Under a separate measure, legal services for the poor, OEO's third major program, would be shifted to HEW.

House and Senate conferees in May reported out a compromise Legal Services bill. Its future is also in limbo.

The measure, however, is being held up in the Senate, for fear of a White House veto, an OEO spokesman said.

His backers feel the White House might reject the bill to appease conservative senators who might have to conduct a presidential impeachment trial.

Under the compromise bill, the Legal Services corporation would be headed by an 11-member board of directors, of whom no more than six members could be on the same political party. They would be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

Its lawyers would be barred from political activities even during nonworking hours and would be barred from handling lawsuits aimed at segregating schools.

It was mainly Legal Services which led to a 1971 veto of an OEO authorization bill, leaving OEO without legal authorization for 14 months, although funds were appropriated. President Nixon objected to a Legal Services transfer provision in the bill. He then appoint only six of the 17 board members.

Films, B. B. King, Eagles, Joe Walsh, Helen Reddy, are featured at Festival

Bergman films, B. B. King, Eagles and Joe Walsh, and Helen Reddy—those named will be the featured attractions of this week's Mississippi River Festival concerts at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Tonight is International Director night at the MRF Film Festival.

Ingmar Bergman's "Seventh Seal" and "The Magician" will be shown, both for the general admission price of $2. Starting time is 8:30.

B. B. King widely recognized as "king of the blues," heads the show on Tuesday evening at 8:30, with special guest artist Muddy Waters.

Born in Indianola, Miss., B. B. King taught himself to play the guitar as a youngster; in the early 1940s he played on street corners in nearby towns.

After the war, he got a performing job in Memphis and played on the first Negro-owned radio station there. He became a disc jockey named "The Boy from Beale Street" and thereafter Riley B. King became known as B.B.

He always loved the blues and is the most popular traditional blues performer today.

Muddy Waters, considered one of the all-time greats of country blues, played guitar around Rolling Fork, Miss., until he was discovered by folklorist Alan Lomax, and left the South in 1942 for Chicago.

His early recordings are considered classics and 12 of them, ranging from solo performances to his full band sound, have been reissued on Chess 1427, "The Best of Muddy Waters."

His band is made up of: Muddy Waters, guitar and vocals; Otis Spann, piano and vocals; George "Mojo" Buford, harmonica and vocals; Sammy Langhorn, lead guitar; Luther "Georgia Boy" Johnson, bass guitar and vocals; and S. P. Larrie, drums.

SELLING COMFORT FOR 26 YEARS

On Wednesday evening at 8:30, Eagles and Joe Walsh star at the MRF.

Eagles, a quintet of rock and roll musicians, singers and composers, first came on the scene with the single, "Take It Easy."

Now, after two years and three albums, the first of which, "Eagles," won a gold record, the band remains one of the most refreshing in rock and roll.

Glenn Frey, guitar, piano and vocals; Bernie Leadon, guitar, banjo and vocals; Randy Meisner, bass and vocals; and Don Henley, drums and vocals, had all been well-known figures in the Southern California music community. They first met and established Eagles while backing singer Linda Ronstadt.

The fifth member, guitarist Don Felder, was brought in to add slide guitar to the recording "Good Day in Hell." His mandolin works fill out the country ballads or bluegrass reels, while his slide and lead guitar add power and impact to the rockers.

Joe Walsh formerly was with the James Gang, who will appear at MRF July 31.

He left to join Joe Vitale, drums, and Kenny Pasarelli, bass. The new group, Barnstorm, had its successful turning point with the album "The Smoker You Drink, the Player You Get" and the single, "Rocky Mountain Way."

On Friday evening at 8:30 Helen Reddy will appear.

Although a "new" star in the United States since her hit singles "I Don't Know How to Love Him" and "I Am Woman," Helen Reddy has been singing professionally most of her life.

She made her debut at the age of four in the Trivoli Theatre, Perth, Australia.

Her father, Max Reddy, was a well-known writer, producer and comedy actor in Australia and her mother, Stella Lamond, is an equally prominent actress.

Helen appeared with them in their own long-running radio show, playing virtually every female part a radio writer could write.

At 15, she resolved to get to America and made it in 1966 by winning an Australian TV station talent contest.

In New York, she met Jeff

Wald of the William Morris Agency, married him and acquired also a full-time partner and personal manager.

Her latest album is "Love Songs for Jeffrey" which includes the Paul Williams song, "You and Me Against the World."

MRF tickets may be purchased at all area box offices. Further information is available at the SIUE box office, 686-2220, and at Powell Symphony Hall (314) 533-2500.

Steel import level rises

Steel imports recorded their sharpest increase so far this year in May, newly compiled figures showed Friday.

According to government data supplied the American Iron and Steel Institute, foreign producers shipped 1,450,000 tons more than the 971,000 tons of steel imported during April—the largest month-to-month increase so far this year.

During the first five months of 1974, steel imports had reached 4,663,000 tons. This compares with a total of 6,511,000 tons of foreign steel landed in the United States during the same period of last year.

The average declared value of all imported steel climbed to $263.16 per ton through the first five months of this year. That compares with an average declared value of $173.71 per ton for the comparable period of 1973.

By the end of May, this year's trade deficit in steel mill products had reached $458,161,000.

Exchange pupils seeking homes

International Cultural Exchange, a worldwide non-profit organization, known as Exchange-Visitor Program No. P-111-584 by the U. S. Department of State-Educational Affairs Bureau, is seeking average American homes to host more than 1,000 international students arriving in August for an 11-month stay.

The students' purpose is to learn as much as possible about life in the U.S.A. and to form a warm relationship with the family of which they come to be a part.

In cooperation with high schools in the U.S., the students attend the local high school to learn about education in the U.S. and establish a close rapport with the teenagers there.

Families are being urged to consider the "unique and rewarding opportunity" and are to contact Luis A. Nunez, Illinois Field Associate, 2231 Denton Ct., Schaumburg, Ill., 60172.

An application will be forwarded and a visit to the home will follow before a student is placed.

Age, race, religion, wealth or size of the host family are not important qualifications, but rather how much love and understanding they can provide the student, it was explained.

Interested American students wishing to be informed about opportunities abroad also may contact Nunez.

No easy answer for bugs in swim pools

By WAYNE B. SEIFERT
Lawn and Garden Authority

Various kinds of aquatic beetles and bugs find their way into outdoor swimming pools. Night lighting in the vicinity of the pool such as yard lights and patio lights attract the flying adults.

The true aquatic insects are not killed by normal chlorine treatment of swimming pools. If you decide to increase the chlorine you will discover the insects can survive. In more chlorine than the swimmers. Insecticides added to the water are not recommended.

The best thing to do is reduce night lighting as much as possible and fish out, with a dip net, those insects that do appear.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PRUNE EVERGREENS

Most shrubs need annual pruning to maintain a good size relationship or scale between the home and its planting. In addition, pruning can maintain the natural beauty of the plants and keep them strong.

Since new growth needs time to mature before winter, evergreens should be pruned before the end of July.

When you finish pruning your evergreens they should look natural, rather than sheared into balls, squares or hedges. Shearing causes most evergreens to develop a dense outer growth with hollow centers. Once that happens no new growth will develop in the center of the plant even if you thin or completely remove the outer growth.

Always leave lower branches longer than those near the top to assure that these low limbs will thrive. Cutting the low limbs even with the upper limbs causes them to stop growing and gradually lose their foliage.

PRUNING OF CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Summer pruning and extra fertilizing is the secret of size control and superb fall beauty. Fall blooming chrysanthemums can be grown as short stemmed beauties if you prune down to six inch stubs and thin the clump. One last pruning before the 15th of July will not burn the flower color or size but will guarantee a compact clump.

Prune off the entire clump to six inch stubs. Then pull out the thin stems until five or six of the largest stems remain. Less

Bicycle mishaps rising; many ignore 'road rules'

Bicycling seems to have become a popular sport for many Americans, and, at the same time, bicycle accidents have become more common to many riders, an Illinois State Representative spokesman comments.

Many tend to forget that bicyclists have rules of the road they must follow, just as motor vehicle drivers must obey certain traffic laws, he reminded.

Riding a bicycle can be just as, if not more, hazardous than riding a motorcycle, he said, and a knowledge of certain points of safety must become standard for bicyclers of all ages.

Those who take to the pedals and spokes are being urged to remember the following rules of safety: obey all traffic laws, and a knowledge of certain points of safety must become standard for bicyclers of all ages.

Other rules cited were: give pedestrians and vehicles the right of way; avoid riding after dark, and then only if the bicycle has a headlight and red tail light or reflector.

Since Oct. 1, 1973, every bicycle, when in use at night, must be equipped with a lamp on the front which emits a white light visible from a distance of at least 500 feet to the front and with a clear reflex reflector on the rear.

A red reflex reflector must be attached on the rear of the bicycle.

Other cautions include: do not speed, race or weave in and out of traffic.

Do not carry passengers or big packages; never hitch onto a truck, car or moving vehicle; travel in single file when riding with others; keep both hands on the handlebars, except to signal to stop or turn; slow down at intersections.

Dismount and walk across dangerous intersections on streets; do not turn or cross unless it is safe; never squeeze into narrow places or between two automobiles; avoid busy streets or highways—Bicycles are not allowed on most expressways, toll roads or interstate highways, and never ride out of a blind alley on to the street or highway without stopping.

The State Bar spokesman also pointed out that the law requires that there must be brakes on the bicycle which are good enough to cause a tire to skid on dry, level, clear pavement, and a horn or bell which can be heard up to 100 feet away. Sirens or whistles are not allowed.

Since July 1, 1973, new bicycles have to be equipped on each pedal with a reflectors which can be seen from both the front and the rear of the bicycle for a distance of 200 feet after dark.

They also must have side reflectors, front and rear, visible at night in reflected light for a distance of 500 feet. The reflector to the rear of the center of the bicycle should be red in color and the reflector to the front of the center should be amber or yellow.

The pedal and side reflectors must be installed on the new bicycles by the seller.

The Illinois State Bar Association advises the public to install these safety features on older bicycles. The rider also should add a red taillight, powered by a battery or generator to give more safety at night, the spokesman continued.

If books or packages are to be carried on a bicycle, it is advisable to add a device capable of carrying such items so that they do not have to be carried by the rider.

Those who wish to obtain a copy of the "Bicycle Rules of the Road" may do so by writing the Illinois Secretary of State's office in care of the Centennial Building, Springfield, 62706.

competition for water, sunshine and fertilizer will result in strong growth and heavy branching.

Fertilizing with a lawn or garden fertilizer will give them an extra boost and extra quality. Scatter the fertilizer among the clumps and immediately water in. Occasional deep watering during July and August and your extra fertilizer will produce the finest chrysanthemums you have ever grown.

Pincushion mums are a special dwarf variety. Use the extra fertilizer and water but do not prune. Pincushion mums will be dwarf and flower in August without pruning. But extra fertilizer and water also will give these extra beauty.
